

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
October 22, 2004

CONTACT: Jacqui Argyres
Argyres Communications
408.266.2324
jargyres@earthlink.net

RNL WELCOMES THREE ADDITIONS TO THE DENVER OFFICE

DENVER, CO -- RNL Design welcomes three new employees to the Denver office:

Ann Baker, architect, comes to RNL with more than twenty years of architectural design experience including an emphasis on project development and management, construction documentation, site planning and design and construction administration. She is the latest member of the firm's specification team, focusing on producing construction document specifications.

Jeff Richards, CAD Manager, joins RNL having more than ten years of the latest CAD modeling and visualization software experience. In addition, Richards has taught CAD instruction at the Rocky Mountain College of Art and Design.

Christopher Walla, intern architect, a recent graduate of the University of Kansas with a Bachelor of Architecture degree, Walla joins RNL possessing a full spectrum of computer design skills.

RNL Design is an integrated, full service architectural firm with offices in Denver, Phoenix and Los Angeles, serving clients locally, nationally and internationally. Since its inception in 1956, RNL has built its practice providing innovative design solutions to clients, exceeding their needs and bringing ideas to life. RNL offers clients around the world a continuum of design services, including architecture, interior design, facility programs, feasibility studies, urban design and planning, landscape architecture and engineering. Testimony to RNL Design's success are the many partnerships with clients spanning several decades and many prestigious awards. For more information, visit www.rnldesign.com.

###